Neonode N2 gets unboxed, videoed

Posted Jul 18th 2007 3:43PM by Darren Murph

Filed under: Cellphones

Granted, this whole unboxing process took a tad longer than we're used to, but considering the absence of an Apple logo and the fact that the folks in Greece likely roll with a bit more patience than we gizmo freaks here in North America, we won't grouse too much. Still, the first widespread unboxing pictures (and a video for good measure) of the highly anticipated Neonode N2 have officially hit the 'net just under a fortnight after the launch party in Athens, and we must say it's looking pretty good. From the well appointed packaging right down to the matte black outfit, the N2 is (finally) yours to witness (psst, the video is after the jump).

CELLPHONES
Neonode N2 Unboxed

We saw the Neonode N2 a couple of times this past year, even giving it a spot in our top 10 phones of 3GSM. But for such an eagerly awaited phone, we have to wonder why it was launched in Greece instead of the US first. No matter. Its touchscreen, 1GB miniSD card, 2-megapixel camera, MP3 player, and quad-band GSM means that it's not very impressive (specs-wise) anyway. Head over to Pestaola to see more pics.
